UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

ADDENDUM TO DETENTION ORDER

I. FACTORS CONSIDERED

18 U.S.C. § 3142:

- (g) Factors to be considered.--The judicial officer shall, in determining whether there are conditions of release that will reasonably assure the appearance of the person as required and the safety of any other person and the community, take into account the available information concerning--
- (1) The nature and circumstances of the offense charged, including whether the offense is a crime of violence, a Federal crime of terrorism, or involves a minor victim or a controlled substance, firearm, explosive, or destructive device;
- (2) the weight of the evidence against the person;
- (3) the history and characteristics of the person, including-
 - (A) the person's character, physical and mental condition, family ties, employment, financial resources, length of residence in the community, community ties, past conduct, history relating to drug or alcohol abuse, criminal history, and record concerning appearance at court proceedings; and
 - (B) whether, at the time of the current offense or arrest, the person was on probation, on parole, or on other release pending trial, sentencing, appeal, or completion of sentence for an offense under Federal, State, or local law; and
- (4) the nature and seriousness of the danger to any person or the community that would be posed by the person's release.

As to factor:

- (g)(1): The nature and circumstances of the offense charged involve a controlled substance, that being a significant amount of cocaine base.
- (g)(2): The weight of the evidence against the person appears to be strong, compelling and significant. Wire intercepts of telephone conversations were made by the Drug Enforcement Agency which recorded telephone conversations between the defendant and a co-defendant in which the defendant made arrangements to come to the home of the co-defendant and to purchase quantities of cocaine base.
- (g)(3): The history and characteristics of the person
- (A) Family ties, employment, financial resources, length of residence in the community, community ties, past conduct, history relating to drug or alcohol abuse, criminal history and record concerning appearance at court appearances indicate that the defendant has family ties, he has had employment but is not employed at the present time. The defendant has had a long length of residence in the Buncombe County community, having resided there all of his life. The defendant's history shows that he has diabetes, high blood pressure and heart issues. The defendant's history relating to drug or alcohol abuse shows that he is a "heavy drinker of alcohol" and has consumed such amounts of alcohol for the past 11 years. The defendant has participated in alcohol outpatient treatment on three occasions. The defendant has used cocaine since 1987. In regard to the defendant's criminal history relating to drug or alcohol abuse, the defendant has the following convictions:

Offense	Conviction Date
Misdemeanor solicitation to commit a felony, that being possession of counterfeit controlled substances	09/19/09
Intoxicated and disruptive	07/15/03

In addition to the above referenced offenses, the defendant has the following additional criminal convictions:

Offense	Conviction Date
Assault on a female	11/17/88
Damage to personal property	07/24/91
Misdemeanor domestic violence protection order violation	09/17/03
Resisting an officer	07/15/03
Misdemeanor breaking or entering, misdemeanor larceny	09/19/03
Second degree trespass	01/04/06
Felony breaking or entering, felony larceny after breaking or entering, communicating threats, injury to personal property, misdemeanor
breaking or entering, domestic criminal trespass	01/04/06
The defendant's record concerning annearance at court annearances shows that the defendant

The defendant's record concerning appearance at court appearances shows that the defendant appears in court as he is scheduled to do.

(B) At the time of the current offense or arrest, the defendant was on probation, parole or other release pending trial, sentencing, appeal or completion of sentence. It appears that this factor does exist. The defendant had been charged with misdemeanor larceny on December 24, 2008 and had been released on terms and conditions of bond.

(g)(4): The nature and seriousness of the danger to any person or the community that would be posed by the person's release indicate by clear and convincing evidence that the release of the defendant would create a risk of harm or danger to any other person or the community. The undersigned finds that there is a statutory presumption, based upon the charges against the defendant, that the release of the defendant would create a risk of harm or danger to any other person or the community. This presumption is subject to rebuttal by the defendant. The presumption has not rebutted. The testimony in this matter shows that the weight of the evidence against the defendant is strong and signification. The Drug Enforcement Agency has recorded telephone conversations between the defendant and one of his co-defendants in which the defendant was making the necessary arrangements to purchase crack cocaine. The criminal record of the defendant shows that the defendant has committed the offense of assault on a female, misdemeanor domestic trespass, resisting an officer and another count of domestic criminal trespass. As a result, the undersigned finds by clear and convincing evidence that the release of the defendant would create a risk of harm or danger to any other person or the community and the defendant has not rebutted the presumption in favor of detention and as a result, the undersigned will enter an order detaining the defendant.

The undersigned does find by a preponderance of the evidence that the defendant has rebutted the presumption that his release would create a risk of flight on his part. The entire criminal record of the defendant, which is significant, shows that all of the defendant's criminal activity has been involved in Buncombe County, NC. As a result, the undersigned finds that the release of the defendant would not create a risk of flight on his part.

WHEREFORE, it is ORDERED that the defendant be detained pending further proceedings in this matter.

Signed: April 20, 2009

Dennis L. Howell
